DISTILLATION

HISTORY

- " Distilling was used as early as 3500 BC in Mesopotamia where perfume makers had developed it as a technique for isolating the scented oils of flowers and plants, what we know as "attar".
- " Around 1100 AD wine was first distilled to make spirit by Irish monks who travelled around Europe.
- " The results of distillation were considered to have magical powers and this led to alcohol being called "water of life" or "usige beatha" in Gaelic, "eau de vie" in French and "aqua vitae" in Latin.

Definition

- " Distillation is the process of converting a liquid into gas or vapor by heating it and then condensing it back into liquid form.
- " When spirits are distilled the original liquid has already been fermented and is an alcoholic 'wine' or wash. After the 'wine' or wash has been converted into vapor and then condensed back into a liquid it is called a distillate. Impurities are left behind in the original container.
- " The equipment used to distill spirits is called a STILL. A still has three essential parts: the original container in which the wash or wine is heated to turn into vapor, the condenser in which the vapor is cooled, and the receiver in which the distillate or distilled spirit is collected.
- " This system works because ethanol boils at 78.5°C and water at 100°C. When the alcoholic wash ("wine") is heated to 78.5°C the alcohol boils off leaving other constituents, mostly water behind.
- " The first part of the distillate is the "heads" followed by the "heart" and lastly the "tails".
- " The "heads" and the "tails" contained mostly impurities which also add to the flavor.
- " The distiller would decide the amount of impurities required and for what purpose.
- " The original liquid from which drinkable spirit is distilled can be grape wine (as in the case of Brandy), sugar wine (for Rum), fruit wine (for Cherry Brandy), or malted or un-malted grain wine (for Whisky, Gin and Vodka).

STILLS

POT STILL

The pot still or the 'alembic or alambic' is the earliest and traditional form of still. These were basically enclosed kettles, which narrowed towards the top to collect vapor created by boiling. A downward pipe from the head carried the vapor through cold water and caused it to condense and it could be collected in a receiving chamber.

Copper was the best metal for making the still as it drew out the impurity from alcohol. It produced distilled spirits in batches, one batch at a time. It is a laborious and time consuming process. The stills have to be loaded up, boiled off, cleaned and recharged for every run.

Advantages of Pot Still

- " It produces spirits that are individualistic due to presence of congeners.
- " Spirits with pronounced aromas are produced.

Several committees for the fulfillment of academic commitments:

1) Attendance:

This committee ensures timely compilation of attendance records by the subject teachers of all the groups and class counselors. This committee further ensures that parents are informed periodically about the attendance of their ward and corrective action is discussed and initiated. The committee keeps a track of regular absentees throughout the semesters and counsels them, if required, along with their parents/ guardians.

2) Examination:

The main function of this Committee is to ensure all the papers are prepared and collected well in advance. To carry out Internal / External Theory and practical examinations of all the semester. It monitors Valuation of answer sheets. Declare results to the students who pass the semester end examinations

3) PTA:

The prime objective of this committee is to help the Principal in maintaining the general discipline in the college and in looking after the welfare of the students. It is desired that the parents / guardians of all the students to be aware of the overall progress of their ward. To coordinate with the class counselors for conducting these meetings and ensure the involvement of parents in wellbeing of their children.

4) Staff & Students Discipline Committee:

To make the rules and regulations as per the disciplinary requirement.

To make the students aware about the discipline.

To make the students obey the disciplinary rules and remain orderly and peaceful in the pursuant of educational objectives.

To take disciplinary action against any of the misconduct by staff or students.

5) Syllabus:

To ensure that the syllabus covers portions of topics in a particular subject in a particular semester.

The committee is responsible for the planning and monitoring of Syllabus

Programmes to ensure all aspects are effectively timetabled and monitored.

6) Time Table & Academic Calendar:

The main objective of this committee is to collect information on various academic/curricular and extension activities planned by different committees. To allot the theory subjects and practicals to the specialized faculty. To prepare a timetable for each group, class for each semester and ensure better utilization time, resources and facilities.

The committee is responsible for the Submission of the year planner of the current academic Calendar to the principal for final approval. To prepare and publish the Academic Calendar before the commencement of the new academic year.
